1. Welcome to EarnedHome

EarnedHome is a homebuyer estimate tool paired with a back-office dashboard. Homebuyers run real, lender-backed monthly-payment estimates (Conventional, FHA, and VA — including Jumbo), then connect to one of your loan officers. Real-estate referral partners share their own links and get credit for the buyers they send.

This manual is for you, the Broker / Company Administrator — the top-level account that manages your loan officers and referral partners and sees everything across the company.

The three roles

- Broker Administrator (you) — manage loan officers and agents; see all leads across the company.
- Loan Officer (LO) — works their own leads and referral partners; sees only their own.
- Referral Partner (Agent) — a real-estate agent who shares a link and tracks the buyers they refer (no login).

Note: Examples below use R Parry Financial as the broker, Richard McHargue as a loan officer, and Jane's Realtor as a referral partner.

2. Signing in

1. Go to your EarnedHome sign-in page — for R Parry that's home.rparryfinancial.com/login.
2. Enter your email and password, then select Sign in.
3. If you've forgotten your password, choose Forgot password? and follow the emailed reset link.

As the Broker Administrator you land on the Leads dashboard, where you can see every loan officer's activity.

Note: For security, EarnedHome signs you out after 15 minutes of inactivity. A "Still there?" prompt appears a minute before it happens — any activity (or selecting Stay signed in) keeps you in.

3. Your dashboard at a glance

The Leads page is your home base. Across the top are metric cards; below is the leads table.

Metric cards

- Quotes run, Total leads, New (unworked), Leads this week, Closed / Funded, Closed this month — your volume at a glance.
- Quote → lead, Lead → Closed, Close rate (this month) — your conversion rates.

The leads table

- Each row is a buyer: date, name, Agent (referral partner, if any), LO (which loan officer it's assigned to), email, phone, consent, and a Status dropdown.
- Beside a referring agent you'll see an Agent updates: Yes / No badge — whether that buyer authorized the agent to see their loan status.
- Click a row to expand the buyer's scenario, the quote they saw, and notes.
- View filter (Active / All / by status) and, for you as admin, an LO filter to focus on one loan officer.

Top navigation

View site (the buyer tool) · Agents · Loan officers · Update rates · Sign out. The header also shows "Signed in: your name · role" so you always know which account you're in.

4. Add and manage Loan Officers

Add a loan officer

1. Enter the LO's Name, Email (must be unique), NMLS number, and Phone (a contact number kept on record).
2. Select Add loan officer. They appear in the list as a loan officer.
3. Select Email link on their row to send a set-password / sign-in email. It opens a secure EarnedHome page with a Continue button; they set a password and reach their dashboard.

Note: A newly added LO can't sign in until they set a password — the Email link (or a password reset) activates their login. No email is sent automatically on add.

The Primary loan officer

Exactly one LO is the Primary. The Primary receives any lead that does not come through a specific referral partner's link. Use Make primary to move it.

Edit, and turning a seat off

- Edit — update an LO's name, email, NMLS, or phone. Changing the email also updates that LO's sign-in login — they'll use the new address to log in and reset their password.
- Turn off — fully deactivates the loan officer: they can no longer sign in, they stop receiving routed leads, and their referral partners' share links and status pages are revoked too. Turn on restores everything.

Important: You can't turn off the last active broker admin — EarnedHome blocks it so no one is ever locked out of the dashboard.

Each LO carries their own individual NMLS, which is what buyers see when that LO is the one handling them.

5. Add and manage Referral Partners (Agents)

Select Agents in the top navigation. Referral partners are real-estate agents who send you buyers.

Add an agent

1. Enter the agent's Name, Email, and Phone, then select Add agent.
2. The agent is now tied to the loan officer who added them (for you as admin, that's you; when an LO adds their own, it's that LO).

Each agent gets two links

- Share link (`/a/<name>`) — the agent shares this with buyers; anyone who runs an estimate from it is credited to that agent and routed to the agent's loan officer.
 - Status link (`/agent/<code>`) — the agent's private page to track the buyers they referred. They bookmark it and do not share it.
1. Email links — sends the agent both links in one email with bookmark guidance. (The share URL is also shown under the agent's name if you'd rather copy it yourself.)
 2. Edit — update the agent's details, including the loan officer the agent belongs to.
 3. Turn off — revokes both links (the buyer sees a friendly "link no longer active" page). Turn on to restore.

Reassigning an agent to a different loan officer

As admin you can move an agent to another loan officer — open Edit and pick a new Loan officer. From then on, new buyers from that agent's link route to the new LO. Optionally tick move open leads to bring the agent's active leads along; closed / funded leads stay with the original LO as their record.

6. How leads are routed

Every lead is assigned to exactly one loan officer, decided automatically:

- Through an agent's Share link → routed to that agent's loan officer.
- Directly on your site (no agent link) → routed to the Primary loan officer.

The assigned LO is shown in the LO column, works the lead, appears to the buyer as their loan officer, and receives the new-lead alert in their own inbox.

7. Working leads and the broker roll-up

Lead statuses

Move a lead through New → Initial contact → Working → Closed / Funded (or Lost) using the Status dropdown. The metric cards update automatically.

Notes

Expand a lead to add timestamped notes — a running history of your outreach.

The roll-up (your admin view)

- You see all leads across every loan officer, with the LO column showing who each belongs to.
- Use the LO filter to focus on a single loan officer, or All LOs to see everyone.
- Each loan officer, signed in to their own account, sees only their own leads — never another LO's.

8. What buyers and partners see

- Buyers see the routed loan officer's name and individual NMLS as "Your loan officer," with your company brand and company NMLS in the header and disclosures.
- Emails go out automatically: the buyer gets their estimate, the assigned loan officer gets a new-lead alert in their own inbox, and (if the buyer came through an agent) the agent gets a copy.

Note: Your company (the broker) is always identified with your company NMLS; the individual loan officer is identified with their own NMLS. Both appear where required.

9. Updating rates

Select Update rates (admin-only) to refresh the pricing your buyers see. Follow the on-screen steps to upload your current rate workbook. Keep rates current so buyers see accurate estimates.

10. Compliance and consent

- Contact consent (TCPA) — a buyer must check the consent box before a lead is captured. No consent, no lead. This is the Consent check in the leads table.
- Agent status consent — a buyer separately authorizes sharing their loan status with their referring agent. This is the Agent updates: Yes / No badge; without it the agent sees only "Connected," never progression.
- Estimates only — figures are educational estimates, not a Loan Estimate or a commitment to lend; disclosures appear with every quote.

Important: This manual describes how the software works, not legal advice. Confirm consent wording and disclosures with your compliance counsel before going live.

11. Quick onboarding checklists

Add a new loan officer

1. Loan officers → add name / email / NMLS / phone.
2. Email link → they set a password via the Continue page.
3. Set Primary if they should catch non-agent leads.

Add a new referral partner

1. Agents → add name / email / phone.
2. Email links → they receive both links.
3. They bookmark the share link (for buyers) and the status link (private).

12. Common questions

A loan officer can't find their sign-in email. Have them check spam/junk and mark it "Not spam"; the Continue link stays valid until it's used. Inbox delivery improves once your domain's email authentication (SPF, DKIM, and DMARC) is fully set up.

I turned a loan officer off, but their agent's link still opened. It's revoked right away — just reload the page. Turning a loan officer off also turns off that loan officer's referral partners (their share and status links).

A loan officer and an agent have similar names — which is which? A Loan Officer has a login and works the loans; a Referral Partner (Agent) has no login and only shares links. They are separate records even when the names look alike.

A lead went to the wrong loan officer. Leads that come through an agent's link go to that agent's loan officer; leads with no agent go to the Primary. Check which loan officer owns the agent, and who is set as Primary.

Can two people share one email address? No — every login needs its own unique email. EarnedHome will block a duplicate.
