1. Welcome

EarnedHome sends you ready-to-work homebuyer leads. Buyers run a real payment estimate, connect, and land in your dashboard — many of them referred by real-estate agents you partner with. This guide covers everything you do as a Loan Officer.

Note: You see only your own leads and referral partners. Your broker administrator sees the whole company; you see your slice.

2. Getting your login

1. Your broker adds you as a loan officer, then sends you a "Set up your EarnedHome sign-in" email.
2. The email has two links: a one-time Set password button (first sign-in only — it expires), and your permanent sign-in page link.
3. Select Set password, choose a password, and you land on your Leads dashboard.
4. Bookmark the sign-in page (e.g. home.rparryfinancial.com/login) — from now on that's the page you use every time. Don't reuse the one-time Set-password button.
5. Forgot your password later? Use Forgot password? on the sign-in page for a fresh link.

Tip: If the sign-in email lands in spam, mark it "Not spam" and open it again — the one-time link stays valid until you use it.

Note: After any password change, EarnedHome emails you a "your password was changed" confirmation. If you didn't make that change, contact your broker administrator right away.

3. Your dashboard

The Leads page shows your buyers and your numbers.

- Metric cards show your numbers: total leads, new/unworked, leads this week, closed/funded, and closed this month, plus your Lead → Closed and monthly close rates. (Company-wide quote volume and Quote → lead show only for your broker admin.)
- The leads table: each buyer's date, name, referring agent (if any), email, phone, consent, and a Status dropdown. An Agent updates: Yes / No badge shows whether the buyer let their agent see loan status.
- Click a row to see the buyer's scenario, the quote they saw, and to add notes.

Note: The header shows "Signed in: your name · LO." For security you're signed out after 15 minutes of inactivity, with a one-minute "Still there?" warning first.

4. Working a lead

Statuses

Move each buyer through New → Initial contact → Working → Closed / Funded (or Lost) with the Status dropdown. Keeping status current keeps your metrics — and any agent's status view — accurate.

Note: For a referring agent (only if the buyer consented), your statuses appear as friendly stages: New shows as Connected; Initial contact and Working show as In process; Closed / Funded shows as Closed; Lost shows as Inactive.

Notes

Expand a lead to log timestamped notes as you follow up.

Reaching the buyer

Each lead includes the buyer's phone and email plus the scenario they ran, so you can pick up the conversation with context. When you fund the loan, set the status to Closed / Funded.

5. Your referral partners (Agents)

Select Agents to manage the real-estate partners who send you buyers.

1. Add an agent: Name, Email, Phone → Add agent. The agent is tied to you.
2. Select Email links to send them both of their links (share + status) in one email.
3. Every buyer who runs numbers from that agent's share link is credited to the agent and routed to you.

The agent can track their buyers on their private status link — they'll see stages (Connected, In process, Closed), never financial details. Their page keeps itself current, so they don't have to reload.

Note: If you are turned off by your broker, your referral partners' links and status pages are turned off too — until you're turned back on.

6. How buyers reach you

- Through one of your agents' links → the buyer comes straight to you.
- If you're set as the company's Primary LO → you also catch buyers who arrive without an agent link.

Your broker administrator controls who is Primary.

7. What the buyer sees

When a buyer is routed to you, they see your name and your individual NMLS as "Your loan officer," alongside the company brand and company NMLS. Correspondence and the estimate email are in your name.

8. Emails you'll receive

The moment a buyer connects, you get a new-lead alert in your own inbox with their scenario and contact details (and the agent's name, if referred). Buyers get their estimate by email, and referring agents get their own copy.

9. Common questions

My sign-in link says it's expired or invalid. Request a fresh one with Forgot password?, or ask your broker to resend it, and open it promptly. If it went to spam, mark it "Not spam" first, then open it.

An agent I added shows the wrong loan officer to buyers. An agent is tied to whoever created them. Add your agents while signed in as yourself so their buyers route to you.

Where do I find the buyer's phone and email? On the lead's row, and in the expanded detail when you click the row open.

An agent says their status page isn't changing. It refreshes on its own; they can also reload it. It only shows loan progress for buyers who authorized status sharing — otherwise it stays on "Connected."

10. Compliance basics

- A buyer must give contact consent (TCPA) before you receive the lead.
- A buyer separately decides whether their agent may see their loan status (the Agent updates badge).
- Figures are estimates only — not a Loan Estimate or a commitment to lend.
- Share specifics through your normal licensed process; the tool is for education and connection.

Important: Follow your company's and counsel's compliance guidance. This guide explains the software, not the law.
