

Referral Partner Guide

Run real numbers with buyers and track your deals

For Real-Estate Referral Partners

EarnedHome platform user manual

Examples in this manual use R Parry Financial as the sample broker. Your own company name, NMLS, and web address appear in your live instance.

Contents

1. Welcome
2. Your two links
3. Using your share link with buyers
4. What happens when a buyer uses your link
5. Tracking your buyers
6. What you can and can't see
7. Common questions
8. Best practices
9. Support

1. Welcome

EarnedHome lets you run real monthly-payment numbers with your buyers — right at the property — and get credit for every buyer you send to your loan officer. You don't need a login; you work entirely from two links.

Note: Examples here use Jane's Realtor as the agent and R Parry Financial as the lender partner.

2. Your two links

Your loan officer emails you two links in one message. Bookmark both — they're how you use EarnedHome.

- Your share link (`/a/your-name`) — give this to buyers. It opens the estimate tool, and any buyer who runs numbers from it is automatically tied to you.
- Your status link (`/agent/...`) — your private page to see how your referred buyers are progressing. Keep this one to yourself — don't forward it.

Tip: Save your share link to your phone's home screen so it's one tap away when you're out showing homes.

3. Using your share link with buyers

1. Open your share link on your phone or tablet (or text it to your buyer).
2. Enter the home price, down payment, and a few details, then tap Get Payments to see real monthly-payment options.
3. When the buyer's ready, they enter their contact info and connect — the loan officer handles the financing from there.

This is a great tool at a showing: your buyer can picture the true monthly cost before they fall in love with a home.

4. What happens when a buyer uses your link

- The buyer is tied to you automatically — you get credit for the referral.
- You receive an email copy of the lead ("your buyer just signed up").
- Your loan officer takes it from there and handles the mortgage.

5. Tracking your buyers

Open your status link any time to see all the buyers you've referred, each with a simple stage. The page refreshes on its own — leave it open and it stays current, no reload needed:

- Connected — the buyer signed up.
- In process — the loan is moving forward.

- Closed — the loan funded.
- Inactive — no longer moving forward.

Note: You'll only see the detailed stage for buyers who authorized sharing their status with you; otherwise you'll see "Connected." You never see financial, credit, or loan details — those stay between the buyer and the loan officer.

If a buyer still shows Connected because they haven't turned on sharing, select Request access next to their name — EarnedHome emails that buyer a quick link to allow it. They stay in control; you never see the link or their private details.

6. What you can and can't see

- You can see: the buyers you referred and their high-level stage.
- You can't see: loan amounts, rates, credit, income, or any financial detail.

This keeps your buyers' private information protected while still keeping you in the loop.

7. Common questions

My buyer still shows "Connected." That's normal early on. Either the buyer didn't authorize sharing their loan status, or the loan officer hasn't moved them past the first stage yet.

The page isn't changing. It refreshes by itself every little while — you can also reload it. Stages update as your loan officer works the file.

My link stopped working. Your link (or your loan officer's account) may have been turned off. Contact your loan officer for an updated link.

Which link do I give buyers? Always the share link (`/a/your-name`). Keep the status link private — it's just for you.

8. Best practices

- Bookmark both links; keep the status link private.
- Use the share link live with buyers at showings — it's your differentiator.
- If a link ever stops working (for example, if your seat was turned off), contact your loan officer for a fresh one.

9. Support

Questions? Contact the loan officer who set you up — they can resend your links or help with anything.